Disciplinary panel studies WRP sex claims delay

By Barrie Clement
Labour Reporter

In a highly unusual breach of discipline, the Workers' Revolutionary Party held a press conference yesterday in which it was alleged that Mr. Gerry Healy, aged 73, the WRP's former leader, may have committed anti-revolutionary sexual acts against more than 26 women already mentioned.

Mr. Michael Banda, general secretary of the party, speaking to Fleet Street journalists and television camera crews, alleged that the total could be "considerable" more than that. He said he reported from the popular press who doubted the capacity of a 73-year-old man to commit the alleged acts for which he has been expelled from the party. An understanding of what Mr. Healy had been engaged in was alleged to have been for more than 20 years (including this year).

A disciplinary committee had been set up to investigate the matter. Mr. Banda said that the committee had been set up to investigate the matter. He said that the committee had been set up to investigate the matter.
